

Ultimate Prostate Formula

Dietary supplement to support the prostate.*

Prostate problems are common in men 40 years and older and can range from an annoyance to life-threatening cancer. Prostate cancer is common among American men with 80 percent of all cases occurring in men over 65. However, younger men are not immune to unhealthy prostate glands. Pre-cancerous lesions have been found in men as young as 20 years of age.

Recent studies indicate a diet rich in tomatoes, which are a natural source of lycopene and the mineral selenium, (included in Ultimate Prostate Formula), may help reduce the risk of prostate cancer.

Thanks to Ultimate Prostate Formula, now there's a natural way to help make a man's mid-life transition a little easier while supporting prostate health.* This unique product contains the herb saw palmetto, which long has been used to aid urinary function in the face of a noncancerous enlarged prostate.

Did You Know?

Saw palmetto is indigenous to the southeastern United States and can be found growing in virtually every county in Florida. The fruit of the plant has been eaten by humans for centuries and its beneficial value has been described in scientific literature dating back to the early 1800s.

Pumpkin seeds have demonstrated the ability to improve urinary function, mainly because they contain the essential fatty acids that promote prostate health.

Healthy prostate tissue contains high levels of lycopene, the same substance that gives tomatoes their rich, red color. Consumption of tomatoes, which are the primary source of lycopene—and foods containing tomatoes—has been shown to be directly related to healthy prostate function.
